WHAT STUDENTS ARE SAYING...

“I highly recommend my vocal coach, Cris O’Bryon, to those wishing to improve their vocal technique and performance skills. Cris uses a truly unique, fun and intuitive method of finding your best self musically. He works on your specific vocal technique within the scope of the music you are performing.”

“Cris O’Bryon famous voice class is coming! I first experienced Cris in a master class with James Vasquez of the Old Globe and was startled by how much I learned in a single hour just watching. I took lessons with him weekly for two years after getting my masters in vocal performance and still every week left excited and hungry to work on what he’d shown me. He completely shaped what I’m able to do while singing. Highly, HIGHLY recommend.”

“Each session with Cris was of the highest quality. He has a way of motivating and guiding students that allows for growth, understanding and ownership of their musical skills. In addition, Cris is a marvelous teacher. He draws links to the skills of singing and acting that students can apply to their life as a whole. I found myself completely engaged in his lessons. He has always been one of my most memorable teaching artists, and I appreciate his honesty, dedication, commitment and passion.”

“Cris is a true joy to work with. The breadth and depth of his knowledge is always applied in context to my background and interests. His lessons are always entertaining. Cris is the force behind the creative voice I have developed and am proud to have. He is the Robin Williams of musical theater - high energy, witty and fun to be around. I also love that he continues to perform at numerous venues and stages around San Diego. Without reservation, I recommend Cris for any level of student.”
